EXHIBITING & SPONSORSHIP

The European Waste Water Management Conference is the UK's leading event on problems and solutions for the management and treatment of wastewater.

The conference provides an excellent opportunity to increase your company's profile and gain brand awareness through sponsorship & exhibiting. You might want to communicate a message, promote your products and services, or build your profile as a leading sector supplier. Whatever the reason, there's no better place to reach and engage industry professionals.

Why exhibit?

- Access a targeted audience of 200-300 industry specialists
- The chance to promote your organisation at the free drinks reception in the exhibition area.
- An ideal platform to launch new products or find new markets.

- The ability to see and evaluate competition.
- All exhibiting companies receive 20% discount on delegate fees

The conference exhibition offers a relaxed and informal opportunity to meet with representatives from the UK water companies, consultancies, technical associations, universities, research establishments, process suppliers, Government departments and agencies. The exhibition is the perfect opportunity to meet key people from across the water industry.

If your organisation works within the water and wastewater industry, the EWWM Conference is not to be missed.
